

ANGELA MARSHALL, MD

PHYSICIAN & AUTHOR

Dr. Angela Marshall is a leader in creating more inclusive healthcare. She's the founder of Comprehensive Women's Health, a Level 3 NCQA-recognized primary-care practice for women in the Washington, DC area.

A board-certified internist and a Fellow of the American College of Physicians, Dr. Marshall is the author of Dismissed: Tackling the Biases That Undermine Our Healthcare. The only book of its kind by a Black female primary-care physician, Dismissed examines variables that can affect our perceptions and make healthcare less inclusive and effective: race/ethnicity, age, education, poverty, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, disability, and even weight. Dr. Marshall takes on these topics and our inherent cognitive biases to raise awareness and empower patients and providers alike.

As a former chair of the board of directors for Black Women's Health Imperative, the oldest national nonprofit aimed at achieving health equity for Black women, Dr. Marshall is a nationally recognized expert in women's healthcare and equity. A warm and caring physician and speaker, she inspires providers to offer empathic, inclusive healthcare that ensures no patient is ever dismissed.
